Dear Harry,

Anyway it's all over now and I've got a chance to write you about it! I always figured it'd be bad, but never thought it would be like this! So get set, and I hope I can write this plain enough so you get the whole picture... or my part of it anyway— I already wrote you about some of the guys in my outfit! Good guys... first...

THE SARGE

SERGEANT Aaron Applegate was a good soldier. He was even well-liked by the men who fought under him. And his officers considered him highly competent. Which was how all the trouble began.

It started when the Sergeant's outfit was relieved at the front and sent to a rest camp. Sergeant Applegate was strolling around playing cards with some of the boys, when a Corporal showed up from Division Headquarters.

"Sergeant Applegate?" he said, "the Colonel wants to see you."

"Wants to see me? What did I do?"

"You'll have to come along with me, Sergeant," the Corporal told him.

The Sergeant shrugged, and turned to his friends. "You guys will have to get along without me. Apparently, they want me up at headquarters."

"Hope there's nothing wrong, Sarge!" Private Farrell called after him. He turned his attention back to the game. "There goes a good guy," he told the other soldiers. They nodded enthusiastic agreement.

Sergeant Aaron Applegate stood stiffly at attention in the Colonel's office.

"You sent for me, sir?" he asked.

"Yes, Sergeant," the Colonel told him. "We've been looking over your record, and frankly, Sergeant, we're proud of you."

Sergeant Applegate breathed a sigh of relief. At least, he wasn't in for punishment.

"Yes," the Colonel went on, "we've decided to offer you a field commission. If you want it, you can walk out of here a Second Lieutenant. What do you say?"

Sergeant Applegate found his knees growing weak. A commission!

"W-why, sir, I never expected anything like that," he stammered.

"Well, do you want it?"

"Oh, certainly I want it! I-I mean, thank you, sir!"

The Colonel smiled. "Not at all. If anyone deserves it, Lieutenant Applegate, that man is you."

There were various formalities to go through, but Lt. Aaron Applegate barely noticed them. A few moments later, he staggered out of the headquarters tent, the new gold bars on his shoulders seemingly weighing ten pounds apiece.

In a blue fog, he wandered back to his own outfit. Private Farrell stood up to greet him. "Hi, Sarge! What did they do to you—"

His voice broke off. He had become aware of the gold bars.

"Look, fellers," he said. "The Sergeant's gone and become a Lieutenant." His voice was flat.

Lieutenant Applegate's back stiffened. "What's that?" he demanded.

"Nothing, sir," Private Farrell answered carefully, "but I suppose you won't be bunking with us anymore, will you, sir?"

Lieutenant Applegate hadn't considered that before. "I guess not," he said. "I'll have to move into officer's headquarters. But—"

"But nothing!" Private Farrell interrupted angrily. "I've got nothing against most officers, but I never did like the ones who come up from the ranks. They get de-lusions of grandeur, start lording it over their old buddies. First thing you know—"

"Private Farrell!" Lieutenant Applegate snapped, suddenly aware of the dignity of his new office. "If you continue to speak that way, I shall have to put you on report!"

"Yes, sir. Sorry, sir," said Private Farrell ,and there was silence as Lieutenant Applegate collected his things and left the tent.

"You know," said Private Farrell, as they watched his retreating figure, "I never really liked that guy. Too stiff-necked."

The other soldiers slowly nodded agreement.

It didn't help matters much, two days later, when Lieutenant Applegate did put Private Farrell on report, for wearing a sloppy uniform. Actually, it wasn't Lieutenant Applegate's fault. He'd been with a major who'd noticed Private Farrell, and had insisted that the young Lieutenant take the improperly-dressed soldier's name.

The men in Lieutenant Applegate's outfit merely took it as another example of an easy-going sergeant turned into a discipline - conscious officer.

The day before Lieutenant Applegate and his men were to report back to the front, the colonel was surprised to receive a visit from the young officer.

"I'd like to request a transfer to another outfit, Colonel," Lieutenant Applegate said miserably.

"Why?" the colonel wanted to know.

Lieutenant Applegate told him the story, finishing with: "So the men no longer respect me, sir. I think it might be better if I started fresh—"

"I don't!" the colonel snapped. "You belong with your present men. If you're the officer you're supposed to be, you'll work things out. If not . . ."

The colonel sat smiling at the door, after the young lieutenant had departed. He was remembering the problems he had had, when he had received his commission from the ranks . . .

They arrived back in the front lines during a day of heavy fighting. Private Farrell was muttering darkly to a few of his friends.

"It ain't gonna be the same thing with him as an officer. We'll all have to be so polite and all, we'll probably get shot while we're trying to remember to say, 'sir'—"

At that moment, an attack broke out. In what seemed like a few seconds, Lieutenant Applegate's unit was cut off and completely surrounded by the enemy.

Lieutenant Applegate called a council of war. "Listen, men," he said, "somebody has to crawl through the enemy lines and inform the rest of the Army as to our whereabouts. It's a dangerous job, and I'm going myself. But I'll need another man. Who's coming with me?"

There was a moment's silence, then Private Farrell stepped forward.

"I'll go, Sarge — I mean, sir, uh, Lieutenant . . ."

"Call me 'Sarge', or 'hey you', if it makes it easier for you," the Lieutenant snapped, "but come on! Tim' snapped, "but come on! Time's a-wasting!"

That night, safe in their own lines, Private Farrell talked things over with some of his friends.

"You should have seen the slick way he got both of us through the enemy lines," he told them. "You know, I could have been wrong about that guy. Officer or not, Lieutenant Applegate is still one swell fellow."

The other soldiers nodded, enthusiastically.

MEDICAL RESEARCH DISCOVERS TREATMENT FOR

PIMPLES

Acne, Blackheads, and other externally caused Skin Blemishes

CAUSES OF PIMPLES AND BLACKHEADS SEEN THROUGH POWERFUL MICROSCOPE

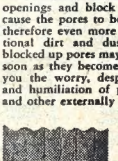
DON'T LET UGLY PIMPLES BLEMISH YOUR PERSONALITY RUIN YOUR CONFIDENCE OR SPOIL YOUR TALENTS!

DO YOU feel your skin is holding back your chances for popularity . . . for success? Are you afraid people whom you'd like to know will reject you? Thousands of people who felt the same as you—now have clear attractive complexions. They've regained their poise and confidence. You can benefit from their experience!

SCIENTIFIC RESEARCH REVEALS NEGLECT CAUSE OF MANY SKIN TROUBLES

Skin Specialists and Medical statistics tell us that broken out skin usually occurs from adolescence and can continue on through adulthood. Adolescents often carry these scars throughout their life. Many never get over the "feeling of embarrassment" and are always conscious of their appearance and complexion. Persistent use of "bad skin" sometimes continues on through adulthood. In this stage of life, the responsibilities of earning a living and meeting people are essential if you are to climb the ladder of success in your job. It is doubly important to give your skin problems immediate cure. Physicians state that to neglect your skin may prolong your skin troubles and make it more difficult to clear up. And, there is no better time to get pimples under control than NOW!

Laboratory analysis using special microscopes gives us the scientific facts regarding those unsightly pimples. High-powered lenses show your skin consists of several outer layers. Projecting through this epidermis are hairs, the ducts of the sweat glands and the tiny tubes of the sebaceous glands which supply the skin with oil to keep it soft and pliable. Skin specialists will tell you that many skin eruptions can often be traced to an over-secretion, of oil from the sebaceous glands. As a result of this over-secretion, more oil than is normally required by the skin is deposited on the outside of the skin. Unless special care is taken, this excessive oil forms an oily coating which is a catch-all for all foreign matter in the air. When dust, dirt, lint, etc. become embedded into the tiny skin openings and block them up, they can cause the pores to become enlarged and therefore even more susceptible to additional dirt and dust. These enlarged, blocked up pores may form blackheads as soon as they become infected and bring you the worry, despair, embarrassment and humiliation of pimples, blackheads and other externally caused blemishes.



Illustrated is a microscopic reproduction of a healthy skin

The sebaceous glands are shown as they project through the many layers of skin. In a normal skin, the openings of the gland tubes are not blocked and permit the oil to flow freely to the outside of the skin.

DOCTORS RECOMMEND THIS TREATMENT

Physicians report two important ways to control this condition: First, they prescribe clearing the pores of clogging matter; and second, inhibit the excessive oiliness of the skin.

To help overcome these two conditions, Scope Products' research make available two scientifically-tested formulas that contain clinically proven ingredients. The first formula contains special cleansing properties not found in ordinary cold creams or skin cleansers. Thoroughly, but gently, it removed all surface scales, dried sebaceous matter, dust, dirt and debris—leaving your skin wonderfully soft, smooth and receptive to proper treatment. The second formula acts to reduce the excessive oiliness produced by the overactive sebaceous glands. Its active ingredients also help prevent the spread of infection by killing bacteria often associated with externally caused pimples, blackheads and blemishes.

DON'T SPREAD INFECTION BY SQUEEZING PIMPLES AND BLACKHEADS

Clinical reports state that many people squeeze out pimples and blackheads with their fingers. This is unsanitary and may lead to the spread of the infection. This abuse may also inflame your skin and leave red welts and ugly looking blotches and bumps. As a result your face may be covered with pimples and blemishes. Soon you'll be sorry you ever squeezed or picked at your skin by using this unhygienic method to get rid of skin eruptions.

HERE'S PROOF...

How This Amazing New Scientific Formula Called Comate May Help You

Save Your Hair

If you are troubled by thinning hair, dry itchy scalp, dandruff, if you fear approaching baldness — here is GOOD NEWS!

Now available to you is the amazing new Comate Medicinal Formula, developed after years of painstaking research. Comate effectively controls seborrhea — the scaly disease now believed by many leading doctors to be the most common cause of hair loss and eventual baldness. These doctors declare that three types of dangerous scalp organisms are the cause of this scalp disease: staphylococcus albus, pityrosporum ovale, and corynebacterium acnes.

First, Comate was put to a series of rigid tests on cultures of these hair-destroying bacteria. HERE ARE THE STARTLING RESULTS!

PROOF 1 — Comate Medicinal Formula killed the three test cultures—staphylococcus albus, pityrosporum ovale, corynebacterium acnes—in 60 seconds! Report #8099, June 17, 1950, by a leading independent testing laboratory. (Complete report on file, copy on request)

Our research chemists were still not satisfied. Yes, Comate had proved itself in the test tube, but would Comate work as well on the human hair and scalp? And so another — a second — series of experiments was prescribed, to test Comate on the hair and scalps of men and women. Here is the remarkable performance of Comate when applied directly to the human scalp.

PROOF 2 — Comate Medicinal Formula, applied directly to scalps of men and women, killed 88.4% of all scalp bacteria, after 15 minutes application. Report #26635, December 14, 1950, by a leading independent testing laboratory. (Complete report on file, copy on request)

After this proof of success both in the laboratory and on the scalps of men and women, Comate was put to the third test — the toughest of them all. Comate was sold by the thousands on a DOUBLE MONEY BACK GUARANTEE in a number of typical American areas. In 3 short months we have learned that our work and faith in Comate have been vindicated.

PROOF 3 — Letters of gratitude hailing Comate have poured into our offices. By word-of-mouth the amazing results with Comate have been told far more effectively than we could in this advertisement. And only 1.9% of Comate users have asked for and received double their money back. Imagine! 98.1% of our customers were delighted with the sensational results from Comate Formula. Report July 27, 1951, by Certified Public Accountant.

DOUBLE YOUR MONEY BACK GUARANTEE

Read the PROOF from the laboratory tests — the PROOF from the scalp tests — the PROOF in the letters of gratitude from happy men and women who have found Comate the answer to their scalp troubles.

Comate must accomplish for you what it has for thousands of men and women. You must be completely satisfied, or DOUBLE YOUR MONEY will be returned to you. We take all the risk.
